Dear Parish Family,

This weekend is our first Christ Renews His Parish Women's Weekend. We welcome Fr. George Menke, S.J., who once again will be the celebrant and homilist at the 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. Masses.

Last Saturday at our Parish Appreciation dinner, we honored the Stewards of the Month and the Stewards of the Year. The Stewards of the Month this year were:

Charlie Bauerle	The Women of the Reese Family – Pat Reese,
The Don Nevins Family	Michele Reese, and Lauren Hayes
Joan and Jerry Bullock	Frank, Angie, and Samantha Mackell
Anna Marie Gutierrez	Ann Sutton
Sarah Stevenson	Drew and Amy Torzewski
Casey Kehrer	The Mages Family
Rita Gibson

When we first began choosing a Steward of the Year, the staff voted for the Steward of the Year. More recently we have asked the Stewards of the Month to choose the Steward of the Year from among themselves. This year there was a tie vote. Congratulations to this year's Stewards of the Year: Charlie Bauerle and the Women of the Reese Family—Pat Reese, Michele Reese, and Lauren Hayes. Thank you to all of you for all you do for the parish, for being good stewards.

Special thanks to all those who helped with the Appreciation Dinner, especially our chefs, Frank and Susan Lee, the Stewardship Commission (Jeni Nevins and Maria, Jeanine Adkins, Paula Barnette, and Peggy Clegg,), Karen Williams, Mary Martha Costello, Michele Reese, and anyone else who helped set up, serve, and/or clean up.

Once again this year, the readings for the novena came from columns by Fr. Ronald Rolheiser, OMI. In a column entitled "Three Conversion Movements," following upon Henri Nouwen, he suggests that the first movement is from bystander to participant:

In essence, what we need to do here is to move from studying life, speaking about it, teaching about it, writing about it, and perhaps even at times mimicking it, to actually living it. I know this sounds very much like a cliché devoid of substance, but a lot of what is wrong in the world, the church, and within our personal lives today is precisely the fact that we study things, talk about them, strongly voice our convictions about them, but often, in fact, do little or nothing about them. For example, we do not lack for literature, moral rhetoric, or good analysis on social justice. But there is, in fact, very, very little being done. This is not so much because our passion for justice is insincere, but because at the end of the day we are bystanders not participants.

The same holds true for prayer. There is no shortage of literature in this area (and no shortage of workshops either). We talk enough about prayer. We just don't pray a lot. In terms of deep private prayer, we pray very little. Again, we are much more in the position of the bystander than participant. Therese of Lisieux once wrote: "I always preferred to pray rather than to have spiritual conversations about prayer." For most of us, the opposite is true.

Also, I would like to encourage you to read the full interview Pope Francis gave to Antonio Spadaro, S.J. The interview is titled "A Big Heart Open to God" and can be found online at <http://www.americamagazine.org/pope-interview>. It provides an insight into Pope Francis, his faith, and his vision for the Church.

Have a wonderful week.

fr. bob

Please remember our parishioners who are ill, homebound, or in a nursing home in your thoughts and prayers. If you get the chance, please send them a card or note! This week we especially want to remember:
