Dear Parish Family,

Summerfest 2018 was wonderful!!! As I walked around the festival, my heart was filled with gratitude for all of you and for the blessings of the weekend.

For the second year in a row, we were blessed with perfect weather. I am grateful to God for the beautiful weather.

As Summerfest approaches, it seems as though everyone becomes involved: festival volunteers, parishioners selling raffle tickets, and parishioners coming to the festival and encouraging others to come. I am always amazed by the number of volunteers who are here throughout the entire festival, often volunteering in various capacities. In addition, some of these were the same people who worked hard both on set-up and take-down. Thank you to all of you who worked so hard to make the festival a success. Special thanks to all those who took off work to help with the festival!

At some point during the festival, someone made the comment that the income from the festival is not the only benefit from the festival. According to this person, an equal benefit is that the festival builds community and brings the larger community together. I totally agree with this.

Our admission policies continued to work well. There really were no problems during the festival. I continue to be grateful for our decision last year to allow teenagers and children with Little Flower wristbands to have free access to the festival without a parent or guardian.

Last year I mentioned the volunteers who work very hard and very long hours behind the scenes in the counting room. This year was bittersweet with the death of Tom Burke since last year's festival. For several years, Tom managed the counting room. I want to thank Tom Costello for assuming that role and all the volunteers in the counting room.

We also have to be grateful to all our sponsors and to all those who donate goods and services for the Silent Auction. The Silent Auction committee begins their work in January of each year in order to assemble the items for the auction. The Silent Auction is the largest profit maker of the festival. For many years, Mary Martha Costello has been in charge of the Silent Auction. She is handing over that role to Elizabeth Mann and Andrea Johnson.

We are also grateful to our friends at the Steer-In for providing the beef and noodles dinner Saturday evening.

This year I heard many positive comments about the musical entertainment throughout the festival. Thanks to Bill Belles for coordinating the entertainment.

Likewise, a successful festival requires a strong Festival Committee. Their advance work contributes greatly to the success of the festival. Also, during Summerfest, all the members of the Festival Committee play leadership roles, so special thanks to them.

Special thanks to Angie Mackell, our Director of Stewardship and Administration. As Director of Stewardship and Administration, she had primary responsibility for the festival. Although she started in her position last July, this was truly her baptism by fire.

Finally, this past Friday we celebrated the Solemnity of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus. The opening words of the Introit or Entrance Antiphon in the pre-Vatican II Liturgy captured the meaning of the Solemnity: "The thoughts of his heart [are] to all generations: to deliver their souls from death and feed them in famine."

Have a wonderful week.
